

BRUNSWICKS WIN LEAD BY VICTORY

WON FROM STARS SUNDAY AFTERNOON AND WENT INTO FIRST PLACE.

BRUNSWICKS, 10; STARS, 4

Hard Hitting and Errors Result in Big Score—Luck Was With Winners.

The Brunswicks are in the lead in the City League race. By virtue of defeating the crippled Stars Sunday afternoon after the Eastern Browns' victory over the I. N. U. Saturday afternoon had placed all of the teams at a tie in the battle for the pennant. Manager Valle's hopefuls took the pace-making job. But there is just one game between the top and the bottom and the I. N. U. players know how easy it is to be shoved out of the position of honor. The luck of the game was with the Brunswicks all the way Sunday and by taking advantage of every miscue on the part of the Stars they topped the victory, score 10 to 4.

The Stars were first to cross the rubber, when in the second they grabbed one run without the semblance of a hit. After Keenan had fanned, Beemer shoved a hard one at Duffy, which that gentleman muffed to third base. Lennox let one of Lightner's hot ones go to the stand, on which Mr. Beemer took second, and he stole third an instant later, after Larkin had fanned at Lightner. The speedy pitcher of the Brunswicks couldn't locate the plate for Ned Whitebread, one of his heaves being as far from the box as the day was from Christmas. Of course Mr. Beemer scored. Whitebread was walked, but F. Curran took care of Hersfield's fly.

Brunswicks Got Four.

The Brunswicks more than evened things up in the third, when the Stars committed some atrocious errors, several of which failed to find record in the score book, for they were errors of the brain. In their half of this inning they rushed four runs across on three hits, one of which was a two-bagger for Curran. These three hits, which passed ball and errors by Heft, Emmert and Whitebread, allowed the runs.

There was nothing more doing in the scoring line until the fourth, when, with two out of the way, Keenan singles and Beemer followed with a double on which the speedy third sacker of the Stars scored. Beemer was left stranded at the second station when Larkin fanned. The Stars also fanned, other in the seventh, three errors, one each by Kuhn, Curran and Lennox, allowing Whitebread to make the circuit. The Stars' last tally came in the ninth and as in former innings, errors by the Brunswicks did the work. Larkin fanned to start the session, but Whitebread hit safely through first. He was caught in an effort to steal, however, and therefore there was no indication of another score when Hogan muffed Hersfield's ground-er and then committed a second error on the play by heaving it over Kuhn's head, letting Hersfield go to second. Schrock was game, however, and he slammed a two-bagger onto right, on which his pitcher scored. Heft ended the game by lifting straight into Kuhn's mitts.

Lightner's Homers.

Lightner was a hitting fiend in the last of the game. In the seventh,

ELECT ELMER HILL SPRINGFIELD CLERK

SON OF DIXON MAN IS ELECTED CITY CLERK OF SPRINGFIELD, ILL.

PROMINENT REPUBLICAN WORKER

Election as Clerk of Capital Recognition of Ability as Shown in State Secretary's Office.

Elmer P. Hill, a son of Justice of the Peace George W. Hill of this city and well known to residents of Dixon, has been elected to the important position of clerk of the city of Springfield, according to a story in the Springfield News of July 10th. The many friends of Mr. Hill are highly pleased to learn of his good fortune, although they feel that Mr. Hill is no more fortunate than the city of Springfield, for he is the sort of man who will fill the position just a little better than any of his predecessors. It is, in a way, a recognition of Mr. Hill's good work in the office of the secretary of state, where he was a valuable man until the democratic state administration released him to make room for a democrat. The Springfield News says:

Elmer P. Hill, former index clerk in the office of Secretary of State Rose, a prominent republican worker, was elected city clerk this morning, succeeding J. E. Dressendorfer, who leaves the office on July 15 to become chief United States deputy marshal under Marshal V. Y. Dailman; Herman Armbruster was selected as city electrician, succeeding Fred Spears, who recently resigned.

Both men were elected on the fourth ballots of the respective positions, shortly before noon today. The council began the balloting at 11 o'clock.

Both Men Experienced.

Elmer Hill, the new city clerk, began public service under Secretary of State Rose as a messenger boy, working up to the position of index clerk. He was let out under the democratic administration. Both Hill and Armbruster have had considerable experience in the work to which they are elected.

The commission failed to take to the candidacy of a woman for city clerk and Elsa Howard, the woman candidate, failed to receive a vote. There were thirteen candidates for the clerkship. Candidates who received one vote in the balloting were W. P. McLeod, Ward Murray, Francis Fry, W. H. Rohrer and Edgar Harlan.

The selection of both men will be confirmed at Monday's meeting of the commissioners and unanimous votes for the men will be cast. Both men are expected to take office Tuesday morning.

DIXON WOMAN DIED IN CHICAGO SUNDAY

She is survived by her mother, three sisters and five brothers: Mrs. Wm. Hanna and Miss Nellie Kane of Chicago; Mrs. Agnes O'Dell of Dixon; Charles, Herbert and John Kane of Chicago and Edward Kane of Los Angeles, Cal.

INITIATIVE LAW ON TRIAL AT WIRE PILE

BIG PETITION ASKS ELECTION AND SMALL BOND ISSUE TO BUY EAST END PARK.

ALSO VOTE ON WEST END

Commissioner Gannon Stated That He Would Have College Campus Voted Upon at Same Time.

A petition carrying 470 names, together with an ordinance calling for a city election for a bond issue of $2,500, was presented to the city council at the regular meeting this morning and as the ordinance has been filed and an election is demanded, it will be necessary for the city commissioners to call an election within thirty days to allow the people of Dixon to vote on the proposition of turning the pile of wire on East First street into a beautiful little city park.

The ordinance provides for the acquiring of the vacant grounds at the northwest corner of First street and Crawford avenue by the process of condemnation. The petitioners suggest a bond issue of $2,500 to cover the cost of purchasing the lot and making it suitable for park purposes.

The petition was sidestepped for one week. At the end of that time it will be necessary for them to act.

Commissioner Gannon stated this morning that he would also present an ordinance covering the west end park proposition and have it voted upon at the same time to save election costs.

The two propositions could be voted upon at the same election but would be voted upon separately and neither one need interfere with the other.

OF KING WILLIAM OVER KING JAMES AT BOYNE, JULY 1, 1690.

NATIONALISTS FEAR ATTACK

In Londonderry They Organized After Cannonade By the Orangemen.

(By Associated Press.)

Londonderry, Ireland, June 13.—The Orangemen this morning began the celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Boyne with cannonading, during which they projected explosives so they would burst over the residences in the Catholic section of the city.

The nationalists, believing that the cannonade was a prelude to aggressive action on the part of the Orangemen, organized for defense, but up to noon no collision had taken place.

Belfast, June 13.—The celebration of the anniversary of the battle of Boyne was carried out here with great enthusiasm. Sir Edward Carson, at the head of 5,000 orangemen, marched through the city of Belfast to Drumbrage, where he and other leaders addressed an open air meeting.

The nationalist quarter of Belfast was carefully avoided by the demonstrators. A great crowd of tourists, including Americans, came to see the procession and hear the speeches.

TO ATTEND PICNIC AT DEKALB TUESDAY

DIXON MEN WILL STUDY METHODS OF DEKALB BUSINESS MEN.

A number of Dixon merchants plan to go to DeKalb tomorrow to attend the annual Merchants' picnic which will be held by the DeKalb business men. The trip will be made to study the manner in which the DeKalb people will take care of their guests and the kind of entertainment provided. Doubtless a number of ideas will be secured which can be used at the coming Business Men's picnic at Lowell park, Thursday, July 23.

CITY VS. I.N.U. ROW STILL IN PROGRESS

COMMISSIONER GANNON MAKES SENSATIONAL CHARGES OF CORRUPTION, ETC.

POOR GAS BUT HIGH PRICES

Commissioners Wax Wrathful in Discussing High Tension Pole Proposition—Petition Received.

The city commissioners staged another highly interesting session of the council this morning and the cue for the fireworks was again the I. N. U. high tension poles on Lincoln and College avenues and River street.

General Manager L. E. Marshall represented the utilities company and he explained that if the company were forced to move the poles from their present locations in the streets it would cost them considerable money, upwards of $500, at least. The commissioners seemed to be of the opinion that the company should have thought of that before they went ahead appropriating property for their poles.

Commissioner Gannon was a member of the committee designated to investigate the pole proposition at the last meeting and he reported that the committee found the poles placed on Lincoln avenue, River street and College avenue in violation of the city ordinances and that he for his part was absolutely against allowing the company to use the streets in this city without the consent of the people or the council.

Commissioner Gannon went on to make some very sensational charges against the company, declaring that the election which was held here to grant them a franchise was the most corrupt election ever held in this part of the state and that votes were bought right and left. He said that the company had made all kinds of promises before election, but had not lived up to a single one of them. The commissioner gave them a touch on his favorite hobby, gas, before he got through and spoke some clearly defined sentences concerning the amount and quality of gas that the people of Dixon are getting. He declared that in most parts of town it was difficult to cook a meal on a gas stove at certain hours of the day, although the prices charged for gas was exorbitant, he declared. "And now," said the commissioner, "they want to steal some more of our streets."

Mr. Gannon said, however, that as long as he was in the council he would take care of the west end and see that none of the city property down there was stolen.

Mr. Marshall of the Utilities company, when called upon, stated that the tower for the high tension wires

FATHER CHANGES STORY OF GIRLS PRACTICE WITH REVOLVER PRIOR TO MURDER OF HIS SON

BOYS TAKEN TO HAY FIELD AND RE-ENACT THE DETAILS OF LAST THURSDAY AFTERNOON'S TRAGEDY—MEASUREMENTS TAKEN.

DISCREDITS PITCHFORK STORY

It Is Now Believed That Mrs. Emma Hutton Limb of Tree Which Inflicted Bruise on Mouth—Marks Are Evident.

(Special to The Telegraph.)

Sterling, Ill., July 13.—State Attorney Ludens has completed a thorough examination of the scene of the shooting of Emmanuel Byers on Thursday afternoon by his two sisters, Mrs. Emma Hutton and Miss Lillian Byers, and as a result of his investigation he is prepared to seek the death penalty for the two women, whose defense will probably be emotional insanity and self-defense.

The two boys, Sam Wechsler and Morley Byers, eye witnesses to the tragedy, were taken to the scene of the shooting and were made to re-enact the killing. They repeated their stories exactly as told at the preliminary hearing and at the coroner's inquest, and when taken to the hay field were able to tell almost to the inch where the different actors in the tragedy stood. Their statements were borne out by the tracks of the women made as they fled through the potato patch and the orchard.

The impressions of the women's shoes were plainly shown in the soft dirt of the potato patch and at the edge of the orchard. Nowhere were there any marks showing that either had fallen or been knocked down while in the potato patch. Mrs. Hutton, it is believed, will make the statement that Byers knocked her down with the pitchfork before the shooting.

Struck Against Limb?

From the indications, instead of being knocked down by the pitchfork, Mrs. Hutton struck her face against a limb of an apple tree. Just at the edge of the orchard is a tree, one limb of which is just the height to hit a woman of Mrs. Hutton's size in the face. In confirmation of this statement, both boys declare that they saw her stumble and fall just after she entered the orchard and again when she was part way through the orchard. The orchard is overgrown with grass and weeds of a slippery nature and in her haste she could easily fall.

Measurement Are Taken.

Careful measurements of the distances were taken by the officers. That both women were excellent markswomen is demonstrated by the fact that it is just 30 feet from where they stood to the wheel of the hay rake against which Byers was leaning. The distance from where the shooting took place to the hay cock where young Byers and Sammy Wechsler were working was 178 feet.

Ante-Mortem Statement.

A most important witness for the state has been found in the person of Rev. William Miller, who on Saturday conducted the funeral of the murdered man. Rev. Miller was not called at the time of the inquest, but he will be one of the important witnesses at the forthcoming trial. He was the first person, outside of the wife and father of the murdered man, to arrive on the scene, reaching Byers' side two or three minutes before the arrival of Deputy Sheriff Giffrow. To Mr. Miller Mr. Byers made the statement, "I am dying, and I am going to die." This statement, showing that he realized his condition, will make his second statement, making an accusation, a most important statement. To the deputy in response to a query as to who shot him, he said: "Both of them. First Emma shot me twice and then Lily took the gun and shot me twice." Under the law, such a statement, making an accusation, is not admissible as evidence unless prefaced by the statement, in the presence of witnesses, "I know I am going to die." Byers made this remark a number of times to Mr. Miller before the arrival of the officers and while lying with his head on his father's lap. He also made a similar statement to John Reitzel.

Asked Care for Family.

Mr. Reitzel makes the following statement:

"On the way to the hospital Byers was in terrible agony. He turned to me and said: 'John, you have always been a good friend of mine. I am going to die and I want you to promise me that you will look after my family and see that the property is not taken away from them.'"

SCAFFOLD FELL; MAN HURT

Art Handell suffered a painful but fortunately not serious injury while at work at the Dixon opera house this morning when the scaffold which he had erected for redecorating the interior of the play house, collapsed, allowing him to fall to the floor with great force. He alighted in an upright position and escaped with a sprained ankle.

GETS HICKLEY CONTRACT

H. L. Dollahan last week closed a contract for the installation of an electric pumping station at Hickley, Ill.

NOW SAYS THAT HE THOUGHT DAUGHTERS WERE SHOOTING GROUNDHOGS ABOUT FARM—NO EVIDENCE OF GROUNDHOGS THERE.

MANY QUARRELS IN 5 YEARS

Threats and Accusations of Jealous Origin Between Five Girls and Their Only Brother Mark History of Family.

David Byers and two daughters, Mrs. Ida Mick of South Dixon and Mrs. Annette Graham of Clinton, Ia., who are with him at this time, will probably do all in their power to aid Mrs. Hutton and Lillian Byers, in the coming murder trial. This was demonstrated by the fact that every opposition possible was thrown in the way of the officers when they went to the Byers home in search for evidence. The two women stormed and fought against the taking of photographs, urging their father to kick Photographer Newell off the place. The aged man put up a strenuous argument against the taking of the photographs and asserted that the place was his and that he would not submit to having any photographs taken. He rushed at the camera several times and it was with difficulty that he could be restrained from attacking the photographer and smashing his camera.

Story Is Changed.

The aged father also changed his story of the shooting considerably. When alone on Thursday, immediately after the shooting and before he knew his son was dead, he declared that his two girls, Mrs. Hutton and Miss Byers, had been shooting at a target in the orchard for several days past in the presence of his two daughters, Mrs. Mick and Mrs. Graham. He changed this story materially, however. He asserted that he had never made such statements. He never knew there was a gun on the place, he said. Where, on the day before, he gave as his reasons for paying no attention to the shooting, the fact that he believed the girls were again at target practice and later he asserted that when he heard the shots he imagined the two women were shooting ground hogs. He claimed that the locality was infested with ground hogs and that the two women had often remarked that they would shoot when they had a chance. A careful search of the premises failed to scare up a single ground hog, while it also failed to disclose a target of any kind.

Trouble Long Brewing.

For five years there have been constant threats and accusations between members of the Byers family. In every instance the six girls have been arrayed against the one brother, declaring that, because he was the only son, he was being favored by both of the parents. From a small beginning this quarrel gathered momentum until during the past few years there have been numerous complaints to the authorities. On August 2, 1912, Byers was arrested upon complaint of Mrs. Hutton, charged with slapping their aged father. She claimed at the time she had attempted to see her dying mother and had been attacked by her brother, who seized her horse, turned it about and led it out into the road. Byers pleaded nolo contendere upon the advice of his attorney, Walter Stager, asserting that he was a school teacher and that, while not guilty, he would rather pay a fine than to have the publicity of a trial.

Make Poison Threats.

At that time there were numerous statements made by both sides. Both

THE RELATION OF THE HOME TO THE SCHOOL TOLD BY MRS. BEACH

The Telegraph is today publishing a part of the most excellent address which was delivered by Mrs. Jessie Wheeler, Beach, former principal of the North Dixon schools, at the commencement exercises of the class of 1914. The publication of the address is made at the request of many who heard it, and it will undoubtedly be found very interesting and instructive by all patrons of the Dixon schools, for it shows the careful thought of an educator who has studied child life from every viewpoint. Mrs. Beach's address is: "Feel considerably abashed to stand before you in this place, where you are wont to see college professors, famous judges and eminent orators and I feel that it is due you or myself, perhaps, to explain how I happen to be here."

Behind me are ranged the chief causes. Some time ago I was visiting in Dixon, and obeying an irresistible pull, I found myself back in the old High School Assembly room. The Superintendent gravely informed me that I was requested to appear before the august body of seniors. There they made the astounding proposition that I do what I am trying to do tonight.

In justice to my own judgment and common sense, I wish to say that I refused—immediately, absolutely and unconditionally. A few days after I reached home I received what our Superintendent denominated a "formidable document" and with it a reminder from him that when he and I were planning to appear for commencement, I had agreed to do so. I was so much surprised that I was the young people's day and that they should

BROWNS JUMP ON HUBER IN EIGHT

WITH SCORE 4 TO 2 AGAINST THEM, THEY STARTED AWFUL ONSLAUGHT.

TEN RUNS IN ONE INNING

Poor Support and Hard Hitting, Made Carp Wish He Was in the Woods.

On Saturday, in a sweet nine-inning session at Lincoln Park, the Browns defeated the I. N. U. team by a score of 12 to 5. The game was played in an air-tight manner until the eighth, when with the score 4 to 2 against them, the Browns rallied and batted in ten runs. The runs were made mostly through clean hitting, but Huber at this crucial time received poor support.

The contest Saturday opened with both teams well up to form. The errors for both sides were few, the pitchers were working well and the indications were that the winners of the game would cop by only a small score. The Browns opened with two runs in the third and the I. N. U. retaliated with the same number in the fourth. Matters stood tied until the seventh, when the I. N. U. forced another tally over repeating for two more in the eighth. Then when things looked blackest for the Browns, by hard hitting and taking advantage of Huber's wildness and the poor support of his teammates, they came back with 10 runs, turning the game into a Texas league scrap.

Neither side hit with exceptional freedom Saturday, barring the awful eighth. Both pitchers worked well, blows that kept the outfield busy, but were found often for long. Consequently there was opportunity for the display of some real fielding. Larkin made a pretty peg to the plate in the fourth, getting Keenan at that place. McCarty, who came in for four putouts, made some excellent catches. Guhl of the Browns has no doubt, in fact, the whole Browns organization, through judicious management, has come to play classy ball and have climbed from last place to second in the league standings. They showed wonderful improvement.

Saturday's game, owing to the extreme heat, was poorly attended there being but few fans occupying the cool shadows of the Lincoln Park grandstand. That place is on a hot day a mighty cool resort and it would be well if local fans more fully realized this. The score:

CLOSE RACES MARKS BIG LEAGUE SEASONS

BOTH AMERICAN AND NATIONAL LEAGUES ARE STAGING INTERESTING CONTESTS.

The half-way mark in the major league baseball season, reached this week, finds the race in each league still an open one, with pennant possibilities for at least three clubs in the National circuit and six for the American.

Interest, which has been lagging because of the seeming prospect that the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics would continue the monotony of flag winning in their respective organizations, has picked up tremendously within a fortnight and the almost daily changes in the club standings in each league are being followed with keenest attention by the fans.

While the struggle between the New York and Chicago teams in the National league, brought to a climax by the meeting of the two clubs in Chicago yesterday, is a focal point for the eyes of the baseball enthusiasts, the more sustained interest at present is in the American league race.

Not in years has this organization produced so tense a struggle for honors. When play closed Saturday night the lead of the Athletics was only two and a half games over Detroit; Washington was but three games behind.

The record in each league of games played, won and lost, with runs, hits, errors and men left on bases last week, follows:

THE RELATION OF THE HOME TO THE SCHOOL TOLD BY MRS. BEACH

We are no longer training recluses, delightful years with confident assurance of his staunch support and ready sympathy. The credit for present high standing and reputation of the North Side schools, due to this man, who has given sixteen years of faithful, efficient service can never be estimated. It certainly was a formidable document, an overwhelming one, when I learned last that this was to be the last commencement over which Mr. Baldwin was to preside in Dixon. It was a matter of sentiment with me to be associated once more on occasion of this sort with these people I had worked with so many years and learned to care so deeply, and therefore I am here.

It is safe to presume, I suppose, that every one here tonight is more or less interested in the public schools; it is also safe to presume, I suspect, that every one here who has considered the matter, is more or less disappointed in what they accomplish. I am, when I consider the size and equipment and running expenses of the plant and the preparation and experience of the workers, and for some years, it has been in my mind that conditions called insistently for a conference of the stock holders and Boards of Directors and heads of departments, to discuss this matter seriously, impartially and honestly, to ascertain the causes of failure of this great plant to come up to the high standard which we have a right to set for it and to remove those causes where possible.

The matter has been discussed, I grant; criticism has been freely expressed and blame generously bestowed, but has the basis of these discussions and criticisms and fault-finding been knowledge and understanding, or hearsay and prejudice. I am inclined to think the latter. But even those who criticize most harshly have never to my knowledge advocated doing away with the public schools. Why is it then that we keep at such tremendous expense this enormous plant?

In these days when large corporations are applying the efficiency tests sternly to every department, when the saving of a cent or a half a cent on some single piece is matter for the heads of departments to study and strive for, when the plant must pay or go into the hands of a receiver, I think it behooves us to take an inventory of our stock, examine our books and apply an intelligent efficiency test to our school plant. Are we returning reasonable dividends to our stockholders or are the vague and rather general complaints justified?

First of all what are we aiming at; what is the function of the public school; what have we a right to expect of it; what no right to expect? Is the school a complete plant or is it working as an auxiliary to another plant? May some of the cause for dissatisfaction with the output possibly rest on the plan that it is working in conjunction with—the home.

In the middle ages the tim of the schools and instructors was to withdraw entirely the few who came under their tutelage from the world of men and action—to sever their interest in deeds and human relations and to devote them to the contemplation of abstract ideas.

They desired to make their students a people apart—to separate them by an impassable gulf from the common herd. The fact that a fearful plague was laying waste a community, that men and women and children were overcome by famine—that some doughty warrior was wading knee-deep in innocent blood, moved them not at all. Their education had nothing to do with matters of this sort. In such a crisis they withdrew farther into the recesses of their retreats and calmly continued their life work of discussing for instance, whether God could if he willed, commit sin, a question most important for settlement, you will grant and one that discussion—one side contending that Omnipotence could bring to pass anything it willed—the other maintaining that if God performed the act it could be no sin and so, ad infinitum.

A few years of this life and these hair-splitting discussions were enough to raise lasting barriers between the educated few and the illiterate many. The Scholastics cut off absolutely from the current of life from which the whole human race draws sustenance, rapidly lost power and prestige, until they were merely cardboard men struck down by the first blow of the maritil Luther's sword. But since the days of the Scholastics, education has sought in a degree to maintain its exclusiveness, its aloofness. Its aristocracy. But two generations ago college commencements were conducted in Latin to amaze and overawe the common people. At the present day we content ourselves with one oration in Latin or Greek—the last stand of the classicists to shroud education in mystery and make her still a stranger to the race of mankind. And I'd like to stop right here to say that the institution or organization, be it school or club, society or what not that depends upon its exclusiveness and inaccessibility for its worth, that hordes its riches for the few, ought to be, and under democratic nature's beneficent rule it always does.

The classicists are dead, they were too aloof, too exclusive, too remote from the main current of life. Today the idea of the function of schools and education is entirely different, and pedants and scholastic disputants but men and women. For what? For service I believe in breaking away entirely from the old time classic idea of education for the sake of education, a sort of an ornament, a jewel to hang on one's breast on dress parade. Personally I regret this system of affiliation between high school and college tending to make the high school a feeder to certain colleges. Let the young people choose their college because of what that particular college offers them, not because they can enter without examinations. If they cannot pass that they would be more than likely to fail at the end of the first semester or the first year and it would be a saving of expense and valuable time to let them know their inadequacy earlier.

But if the name of a school of any size is not published in that affiliated list, it might as well close its doors. The patrons never would inquire whether the school was so strong that it did not need the prop or so weak that it wasn't permitted to have it, and so we are governed as usual by what the people say who know nothing at all about the question. I hope the day will come when the public school forces will say frankly and firmly to the invitation of these benevolent affiliators, "Thank you. We do not care to. We have a record and reputation of our own which needs no prop or borrowed glory."

Your superintendent and I used to talk of this frequently but we were like the rest—the tide was too strong so we saw to it that it was known that North Dixon was on the list.

The function of the public school is not to fit for college but for service, for efficiency in the tasks of life. As we are not attempting to turn out pedants and schoolmen, neither are we, on the other hand, making clerks nor stenographers nor accountants nor bookkeepers nor officeboys. Our work is to ground the young people in the fundamentals, to help them form habits that will be valuable in any calling. We have no business to specialize. Our output should be men and women, strong physically and mentally, brave, upright, independent, active, ambitious, with a clear vision of honor and truth.

Are we doing this? Are we turning out young people thoroughly sure of their knowledge in elementary subjects, alert, ambitious, accurate, quick to adapt themselves to new surroundings and ready to do their share of the world's work willingly, cheerfully, aggressively? Well, they say not. By this I mean the men to whom these young men and women go for employment after we are through with them. The efficiency of our big expensive plant is called in question. The charge is made that we spend too much and get too little in return. Do you think the critics are justified in the position they take? I do. In a measure it is true. Why is it true? Where does the trouble lie? It would take some one much wiser than I to get at the root of the matter.

But there are certain conditions against which school and instructors are constantly struggling which they ought not to have to struggle against and these conditions are such that a wayfarer man would not hesitate to declare them injurious and hostile to the efficiency of this valuable plant.

Big business concerns feel that they have a right to know something of and to say something concerning the way their employees spend the hours outside of the shop and office. There are some things that they absolutely forbid these employees to do; other things they tolerate so long as they in no way interfere with the man's ability as a worker. Each man is supposed to present himself in the morning fit and capable for work. If he repeatedly presents himself weary, nervous, irritable, incapacitated, he is soon weeded out. Such a one has battered his very hope of success. How much of the success of our work time depends upon our play time? Certain hours of the day we are held in bonds in the office, in the shop, in the home, in the school but in the use of our leisure we are more or less free to follow our own choice and desire with no compulsion from external forces. How should this precious leisure be spent? In recreation? I thoroughly believe.

Recreation should be spent in some manner that recreates—renews, makes live again. Renew for what? For our tasks—for the business of life and leisure spent in such a way that it does not send us back to our work with new zest, with new vigor and interest has been spent idly or worse. If our good time is of the sort that sends us back to our work with a bad taste in our mouths, irritable, dissatisfied, with a desire to slight where we can, bluff where we can and shirk as much as possible, we would better look to the way we are spending our leisure. Men and women were made for work, for strong, vigorous action. Those who have no serious occupation in life, whose chief business is chasing after pleasure are, you know, unhappy and discontented. Happiness is a product which comes from doing things, making one's self useful to the world, in doing one's share of the work of the world.

There is no place in the universe for an idler—everything is planned and fitted for the worker and the best evidence of this is that Nature takes from the idler what he has because he does not use it and he is left empty handed, unhappy and hopeless. Edwin DeGroff, the friend of old and young, the famous advocate of parks and playgrounds says: "There is a great hue and cry today about child labor. Clubs and pulpit and press are devoting their energy to righting this great wrong but evil as it is, it is as nothing compared with child idleness. There is the menace." There was an Englishman, a kindly soul who cherished the hope of being the first to stand at the Southern pole, who found at the goal he sought an alien flag, who failed in his retreat because of the incompetence of some one, who died unconquered and not afraid. Back in England was a little son. Captain Scott had strength in the face of bitter disappointment and cruel death to write instructions for his son's bringing up. "Guard him against indolence," he directed. "Make him a strenuous man." Being that kind of a man had led him to his death and so he must have good reason for warning the mother not to coddle her son—a thing which would be her first impulse to do since courage had led the father to death. Can it be that Captain Scott counted death less to be feared than a laggard soul? Can it be that he counted a man's estate without manliness not worth while? So it would seem. "Above all," he said, "Guard him against indolence." Young people everywhere might profit by being subjected to a discipline that would make them fit for adventures both with soul and body.

The tendency of the times is to take from young people all their little tasks—the work for which they used to be held responsible. Their pleasures, their development along their own lines must not be interfered with. In fact they must grow up almost if not quite as they please. Mean while many perfectly good boys and girls are growing up with indolence steeped into their characters. They loaf through their leisure hours—the most strenuous game they play is walking the streets or attending the movies; they loaf at home; and they loaf at school. Any public school pupil will probably deny this vehemently. But the fact remains that more and more school books are being simplified that the courses which require much serious study for their mastery are being dropped—that discipline even is weakened until the strike is a common recourse for fancied wrongs. What does it mean? The only authority that the school youngster has come in contact with—that of the school and the home he bids defiance to.

Do you think this makes for the happiness of the child or for his future happiness? Do you think it increases the probability of his future usefulness to society? I have enough of the old New England Puritan in me to believe that it's well for the youth to be held to his task even though forced to find his own solution because it is his own task. The mere effort makes moral fibre, the victory gives him courage and appetite for something more difficult and confidence that will be of inestimable value to him when his tasks fall outside the province of a doting mother or an overhelpful instructor.

We are making whiners and shirkers of our children by lifting their burdens and carrying their responsibilities. Here, I firmly believe, is one of the main causes of the lack of efficiency of this school plant anywhere does the burden of it fall, not altogether on the school, I believe, but on the plant to which the school is an auxiliary—on the home.

The school is not all responsible for the child's upbringing. We seem to forget of late years that there is such a thing as the home. The child is pretty well started before the school gets him at all and even then has charge of him on an average less than half his waking hours, I believe. I could pick out the young people in the High School who were held responsible at home for certain tasks by the quality of their work in school by the persistence of their effort, by the courage of their attack. I could pick out unerringly those who were accustomed to discipline by the fine way they accept criticism and the effort they made to profit by it.

Few times have I been surprised when mothers came to me (I suppose there were fathers somewhere; we never saw them and said): "I don't know what to do. We can't do anything with him." I knew it. It was plain as though printed on the child's forehead but we were supposed to know what to do and how to make a courteous, efficient worker out of one who had grown up as an outlaw.

Flattering is it not to our ability and thank God that miracle is wrought, not always but often in spite of the home and the parents and the unfortunate early training and I think the schools should have credit for it.

The faith that these parents have in the teaching force must be colossal. Let me amend to the faith they seem to have. A few days ago I asked an intelligent, progressive woman who her son's teacher was this year. Why, let me see, a Miss Anderson, believe. "Where's she from?" "I don't believe I ever heard." "Do you know her?" "No, I never happened to meet her." "Where was she educated?" "Well, I am sure I don't know." "Must be educated, though, the board hired her." The young son was pending at least half of his waking hours under this woman's influence and instruction and the mother did not know her by sight. In the 7x years I was principal of this High school, I believe two mothers visited the school. One came voluntarily, the other was sent for. We sent for the other, too, but he sent his wife. It made me think of an old German in Kane county who wished to see a man. He stopped in the road by the gate and sent his wife up to the house to ask the man to come out to the buggy. When the man appeared the old German explained by saying, "I was afraid the dog would bite so I sent the woman." They always do. Neither of these mothers saw any class work. I can say it now, I think without fear. Of course, I realize how busy they are at home with the care of the house and their social engagements and clubs and besides what is there to attract attention to the schools?

DeKalb Chronicle: Friday afternoon at the Lutheran church in Milan occurred the marriage of Rev. Louis M. Sagen of Milwaukee, Wis., to Miss Jessie Olson of Milan, well known in Dixon through having attended school here. Rev. K. O. Elstrom of Jewell, Iowa, performed the ceremony at 4 o'clock, the double ring ceremony being used. Before the ceremony Miss Clara Thorson sang, "Oh Promise Me." Mrs. Seward Johnson promised the wedding march. The bride was given away by her mother, Mrs. Anna Olson, who wore a gown of lavender satin trimmed with lace. The bridal gown was of white satin trimmed with shadow lace and pearl trimmings. Her veil was fastened with orange blossoms and her bouquet was a shower of white roses. The other members of the bridal party were Rev. A. P. Lee, Pontiac, Ill., and Prof. Carl Sagen of Moline, Ill., who attended the groom as best man; Mr. Chester Olson of Milan, brother of the bride; Miss Anna Olson, sister of the bride, who acted as maid of honor, wore a blue crepe de chine gown trimmed in white shadow lace; Miss Lillie Borg was bridesmaid and her gown was fashioned of blue crepe de meteor with lace and pearl trimmings; little Edith Borg and Wilburn Sanderson were the ring bearers, carrying the rings in white lilies. The little girl's dress was of blue silk and the little boy wore a white suit. Ushers at the church were Howard Grundy, Peter Kettleson, Oscar Male and Leonard Berg.

The church was decorated in green and white, the altar being banked with green dotted with white carnations. After the ceremony a reception was held at which 125 guests were present, at the bride's home. A four-course dinner was served, Mrs. Ida Bean of DeKalb catering. The menu was served by 16 friends of the bride. The home was attractively decorated in blue and white, with smilax and white carnations. Miss Zoe Gray of Warren, Ill., had charge of the decorations at the church and at the home. Mrs. Sagen has made her home in Milan for a number of years. She is a graduate of Strong's College of Music in Dixon and was a student for several years of the DeKalb high school. Rev. Sagen is pastor of the First Haug Evangelical Lutheran church in Milwaukee. He has often visited in Milan and is well known in that vicinity. The young couple will go to their new home in Milwaukee after a honeymoon spent in Centerville, S. D., the home of Rev. Sagen's people. After Sept. 15 they will be at home to their friends at 1189 Lapham street, Milwaukee, Wis. The wedding gifts were numerous and beautiful.

Formal announcement of the engagement of Miss Velma Stitzel of Nelson and Edward Ferris of Spokane Wash., son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Ferris of this city, was made Saturday evening at an informal dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ferris on Locust street, their daughter, Miss Mary Ferris, entertaining twenty of Miss Stitzel's friends at a 7:30 dinner.

The Ferris home presented a very attractive picture, the decorations of the dinner table being in pink and white, the bride-elect's wedding colors. Pink and white sweet peas predominated in the decorations, a low bowl of sweet pea blossoms marking the center of the table, while tiny bouquets at each place served as place cards and favors.

Miss Stitzel will become Mr. Ferris' bride Saturday, Aug. 15, their marriage to be one of the brilliant society affairs of the fall. It will be solemnized in St. Mary's Catholic church in this city. Father A. J. Burns to read the service.

Miss Stitzel comes of a very prominent Nelson family, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stitzel. She is well known in this city, being often a guest in the Ferris home. Mr. Ferris while residing in Sterling was popular among a large circle of friends. For the past several years he has been reading law with his brother, George Ferris Jr., in Spokane, who is one of the rising young attorneys of that city.

Many friends of Miss Stitzel will learn with pleasure of her coming marriage and will watch with interest for her wedding plans.—Sterling Gazette.

CITY VS. I.N.U. ROW STILL IN PROGRESS

has been put on private property, so that was settled, and explained why it would cost so much for the I. N. U. to move its poles. He stated that he was under the impression that the franchise granted Fred Watson in '89, and which the I. N. U. inherited, allowed poles on any street.

Mr. Marshall took exception to Commissioner Gannon's statements, and said that he felt sure the commissioner was misinformed or he would never make the statements he does. He said that the gas service would be greatly improved as soon as the cable under the river gave a new gas main to the north side of the river was completed, and that they were working on the proposition as fast as they could. He stated that he thought it unreasonable for the city to make them move their high tension poles because there was nothing to be gained by it. Absolutely no danger was connected with putting the poles there, said Mr. Marshall, and he explained that a break in a wire or any kind of a connection, even with the limb of a tree, automatically threw a switch in the sub-station and broke the circuit.

Poles Need Painting.—Commissioner Schuler sided with Commissioner Gannon and went on to say that there were electric light poles in the city that had not been painted for fifteen years, while they are supposed to be painted every five years at the longest, and he also told Mr. Marshall that he believed the company should take more care of their electric light bulbs in the city lighting system, as they get dirty and were never cleaned. Commissioner Schuler said that everyone was complaining about poor gas and high rates.

Mr. Marshall agreed that it was only right that the poles be kept painted up and said that they were painting them as fast as possible and had painted every new one they had put in. He said that the company would also keep the lamps clean.

Petition Is Received.—The council received a petition from property owners on College, River and Lincoln protesting against the high tension poles. It was placed on file.

The council decided to delay the pole matter until Thursday, because of the absence of Mayor Brington.

Nierman, a pawnbroker at 3020 South State street, and William Mays, 4939 Indiana avenue, a railroad detective, testified to having seen in the negro's possession a watch and pin identified in court as the property of Miss Leegson.

County Election Is Illegal.

Pontiac, Ill., July 13.—Judge Philip A. Lubbons in the Livingston county court declared the election held in Pontiac on April 7, at which time ten saloons were voted out, to be null and void and of no effect. The matter of improper signatures to the petition filed with the town clerk is the grounds for the decision.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a glass of Salts before breakfast if your Back hurts or Bladder bothers you.

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out; they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism from the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four cones of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.

HEARING ON POLL TAXES HELD TODAY

OBJECTORS APPEARED IN COURT TODAY—TRY ONE CASE AS A TEST.

The hearings in the cases of residents of this township who have failed to pay the poll tax due under the provisions of the new tie road law came before Justices Gehant and Kent today.

The present trials originated out of the dissatisfaction of residents of Dixon township over imposing the poll tax upon them. This was not constitutional, according to the opinions of those forced to pay the tax, and some 200 persons failed to make good the $2 each which was the amount to be paid.

Consequently it was necessary to issue some 200 summonses for the appearance and payment of the tax and today being the date named for appearance, fifty or sixty of those delinquent reported to the office of the justices. Twelve of these cases were lost by default, those concerned not appearing. Thirty cases tried this morning before Judge Gehant were continued for 30 days and quite a number entered appearances for dates in the near future.

There being so many instances in which the taxpayer decided to fight the tax, it was decided this afternoon at a session in Justice Kent's court to take a test case from the lot, the decision in that case to hold good for all. The case selected was that of Seymour Wright, and will be tried again in thirty days. The matter will probably go to the supreme court and will read thus: Highway Commissioners of Township of Dixon vs. Seymour Wright.

Our one song is the JANSSEN Piano, and we love to sing it—because it always pleases everyone.

If there is a dissatisfied JANSSEN customer—we have never heard of him.

GETTING ACQUAINTED WITH THE PARK.

The people of Dixon and vicinity and, in fact, within a radius of some fifty or sixty miles, are realizing more every year what Lowell park can offer them in the line of recreation. The crowd of three thousand people that thronged the park on Independence day demonstrated that.

Lowell park is one of Dixon's biggest talking points and it is gratifying to Dixon to have her people and her neighbors come to the park and take advantage of whatever its beauties holds for them.

It is a great shame that this garden spot is not more easily accessible to everybody. The class of people who should use it most and who could get the most out of it are now absolutely prohibited from using it because there is no way for them to get there without the outlay of money which is impossible. It is too far to walk and public conveyances to the park are, at the most, infrequent.

A street car line to the park has been talked of some, and, of course, it is the only practical solution. When it comes, Lowell park will be twenty times more valuable to the people of Dixon than it is now. We know of no project that the Citizens' Association of Dixon could take up that would stand for more common good or work more for the interests of the majority of the citizens than that of getting the city street car lines extended through to the park after they have been built by the epileptic colony. It would be worth the biggest kind of an effort. The park is too valuable not to have its full capacity of usefulness realized.

Puts Socialists Ahead.

The statement is significant, Republican leaders claim, in view of the fact that the Armageddonites polled 124,000 votes in Kansas two years ago. The Socialists drew 36,000 votes, or seven times the vote that Mr. White expects the Progressives to cast in the primary next month for candidates selected for their peculiar fitness to make the campaign by the dozen leaders of the party who assigned themselves to this task. There are no contests among the Progressives for the nominations, it being conceded enough to have one man in the field for each office.

The moose candidates for county office are expected to pay their own way, generally, while those who were induced to become candidates for state office, in several cases at least, are said to have been assured the campaign would not cost them a penny. This brings up the interesting question of who is furnishing the money, and the Republican leaders frankly admit they would like to know the answer. The Republican party has no such fund to draw upon. The candidates for state office are paying their way in the primary campaign and expect to continue paying it the right following the primary.

WHAT TEDDY WANTS.

Jerry B. Sullivan, new president of the board of general appraisers, who has just returned to Washington after a trip to the Pacific coast, has given it as his opinion that Roosevelt is figuring on the Republican nomination for the presidency in 1916, says the Davenport Times. "I do not think there is any question about it," he is quoted as saying. Notwithstanding the fact that the Iowan never was a very good guesser in regard to what kind of a hand his opponents held in the political game in his own state, there are certain very good indications that tend to give substance to the opinion held by Mr. Sullivan. To go back no further than June 30, one finds on a re-reading of Roosevelt's speech at Pittsburgh that it was the kind of address that left the way open for 1916. While attacking President Wilson's administration and denouncing the bosses who controlled the Republican convention at Chicago, there is not one word of direct attack on the Republican party as a party or any questioning of the good faith of the rank and file of the party. In fact, in the opinion of many observers, it was just such an address as any Republican opposed to boss rule might have delivered so far as its reference to the Democrats and the republicans was concerned.

KANSAS MOOSE SHORT ON HOPE.

The Chicago Sunday Herald contains an article which goes to show that the Progressive members in Kansas have not much confidence in that party's future in the Sunflower State. It reads:

A statement regarded as the most important announcement of the campaign was given out for publication by William Allen White before he left Emporia for his summer home in Colorado to remain until fall. As an admission of weakness on the part of the bull moose party in Kansas it was greeted with joy by the Republicans. Democrats, hoping the mooseers will pull enough votes from the Republicans to insure another Democratic victory, were less pleased.

White's announcement was that the mooseers would probably not poll more than 5,000 votes at the primary to nominate candidates for all parties in August. White is chief among those who stood at Armageddon in the Kansas campaign two years ago. He is the chief scribe and oracle of them unto this day.

HOME TRAINING IS TRIUMPHANT.

The colored gentleman who was caught scaling a ladder to the second story window of the Lapham home in North Dixon the other night and who, when discovered, did not make his getaway until he had galloped madly back to the barn with the ladder and set it carefully where he found it, shows awful good bringing up, anyway. His mother should be proud of the way her training has stuck. He evidently was told at home that he should put everything back where he found it. But if he always does that what's the use of him going to the trouble of stealing anything? He'd have to bring it back.

Now they have hung the blame of the Empress of Ireland wreck on the poor little third officer of the collier, Storstad. It is easy to pick out the fellow lower down and nail him to the cross.

Blowing Money

BY WALT MASON

It's surely funny to blow in money as fast as it is earned, but what will follow, oh, gentle Rollo, when all the wealth is burned? Suppose you sicken, and troubles thicken about your lowly shack, while does and nurses dis-course of hearse as you lie on your back? The job you're holdin', with stipend golden, may leave you any day, and you'll sit sweating, in vain regretting the dough you fooled away. Salt down the plunder, or you will blunder so bad that all your days with melancholy you'll view your folly, bewail your spending craze. If you have rhino, the people, I know, to you will lift the hat; but none respects you, the world rejects you, if you are busted flat. How sweet and mellow to every fellow is life's serene decline, if he is loaded with uncorroded doubloons, put down in brine! How bleak and dreary, and sad and weary, is age to one who's broke, who sits and hollers about the dollars that he sent up in smoke!

ALLOW MORE HELP FOR CIRCUIT CLERK

OFFICE HAS BEEN OPERATING ON SAME SALARY FOR HELP AS 30 YEARS AGO.

Although the work in the Circuit clerk and county recorder's office has increased over three-fold since 1874, the work of the office has been conducted with the same allowance for help as it was in that year. Such was the statement of Deputy Circuit Clerk Ira Lewis this afternoon when at the special meeting of the Board of Supervisors he asked for the authority to engage additional clerks to catch up with the great amount of accumulated work which must be finished at once. Mr. Lewis explained that the court work is especially heavy in this county, in addition to the recording work, and that to try to make the allowance for help Circuit Clerk McMahon and himself have worked at least two-thirds of the evenings since the present incumbent of the office assumed the position. The board authorized the employment of such additional help as is necessary to dispose of the accumulated work which will require several months.

This ad, although crowded with offerings, does not begin to tell the whole story, but it tells enough to bring a large part of this city's population to our doors.

MARTEENY FUNERAL IN DIXON TUESDAY

FORMER DIXON WOMAN, SISTER OF A DIXON MAN, WILL BE BROUGHT HERE FOR BURIAL.

The Freeport Journal-Standard has the following account of the death and obituary of Mrs. Dora Marteny of Freeport, formerly of Dixon and a sister of Ed. Winders, now of Dixon:

Mrs. Dora Marteny, wife of the late J. H. Marteny, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Schwarze, 137 Winnieshiek street, at 9:25 this morning. Complications from which she has been ailing for the past year caused her death. Her condition, however, did not become serious until a week ago. She has been unconscious the greater part of last week, rallying at short periods, but her condition did not improve any and her death was expected. Her passing was a very peaceful one.

Deceased was born Sept. 29, 1855, at Hagerstown, Md. She came west with her parents when 12 years old and settled in Polo. They lived there nine years and then moved to Dixon, where she was married in 1878 to Jacob Marteny, the date of the wedding being Feb. 5th. Her maiden name was Dora Winders. The couple lived in Dixon until 1896, when they moved to Freeport, where they have since resided. Her husband was killed in a railroad accident on the Illinois Central road 13 years ago. Two children were born to the couple, both of whom survive.

Mrs. Marteny was a devout Christian woman, a member of the Christian church of this city since its organization. She was a regular attendant at all church services until her health compelled her to stay at home. She was a woman of sterling character, beloved by all who knew her. Her demise is sincerely mourned by hosts of friends.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Oscar Schwarze and Mrs. John Wright, both of this city; eight brothers, J. O. Winders of Deep River, Ia.; Frank of Minneapolis, Edward and William of Dixon, Harry of Pearl City, Daniel and Samuel of Sycamore and Charles of Polo and two sisters, Mrs. George Schuler of Sterling and Mrs. Benj. Barnhizer of Polo.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock from the Schwarze home on Winnieshiek street. The Rev. E. T. Cornelius of the Christian church will officiate. The remains will then be taken to Dixon, where the burial service will be held. The Rev. Fisher of the Christian church will conduct the services there. Burial will be made at Oakwood cemetery at Dixon.

The casket will be opened at the cemetery so that friends can see the remains. The funeral party will arrive at North Dixon at 11:10 a. m. Tuesday.

URGED BOARD TO HASTEN PROCEEDINGS

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSIONER DIXON WAS PRESENT AT TODAY'S MEETING.

James Wilson, a member of the State Highway commission, addressed the Lee county supervisors at their meeting at the court house this afternoon on the advisability of hastening as rapidly as possible the work in preparation for work on the state aid road in this city. The meeting was called to appropriate funds for the county's share of the work, and Mr. Wilson, after stating that it would require two weeks to advertise and at least ten days for the contractor to get ready, urged their action, as the commission will not allow the construction of any concrete road in the state after Oct. 15. The board appropriated the county's share.

Arrived. A large shipment of Ladies' Dress Shoes in Patent and Kid, button and lace. Ford's Cash Shoe Store. *1575

REAL VALUES

The statement, a new $400 piano for $200 is meaningless if the Real price is $200 and the day is coming when such so called bargains will be passed up because they are untruthful.

The best way to get a genuine bargain in a piano is to go to a responsible house and pay a fair price for an instrument with a reputation back of it.

An inspection of our stock, which includes A. B. Chase, Vose, Lauter, Schaeffer, Kingsbury and Wellington Pianos ranging from $200 to $500, will give you a correct idea of values.

LINCOLN HIGHWAY NOTES

The Woman's club of York, Pa., has been asked to urge the woman's organizations of York county to join in raising funds for the planting of trees along the Lincoln Highway from Wrightsville to Gettysburg. They have enthusiastically agreed and a great deal of work will be done along this line this summer.

The Lincoln highway mass meeting which was held at Truckee, Cal., recently was attended by a very enthusiastic crowd who subscribed liberally to the Lincoln highway fund. In talking of the work of the Lincoln highway association F. C. Crittenden said, "In after years you will be able to look back with pride and say I was one of the many to help build that famous route from coast to coast."

GOOD RUN OF LUCK.

S. Lenox of this city seems to hold all fishing records for the month of July. While fishing near Grand Detour he landed a catfish weighing approximately forty-five pounds, and also another big one of the same kind weighing ten pounds. Saturday he landed as pretty a three and one-half pound silver bass as has ever been caught in this river.

MANY QUARRELS IN FIVE YEARS

Mrs. Hutton and Emanuel Byers consulted States Attorney Ludens. Mrs. Hutton accused Byers of attempting to murder their aged mother by slow poison in an effort to secure the property, alleging that she could secure the corroboration of her sisters. At about the same time Byers consulted the states attorney, making an almost identical statement. He asserted that the girls were at home most of the time and had ample opportunity to poison the mother and that the aged woman was slowly dying. Owing to the continual strife between the two factions of the family the states attorney refused to enter into the matter.

Mrs. Byers' Death.

Matters grew worse until the death of Mrs. Byers, who passed away in April, 1913. The records show that she was under the care of various physicians for five years, chronic diabetes being the cause of her demise. Both sides again made accusations, to which no attention was made by the officials.

No Property Transferred.

Jealousy was the prime fundamental motive for the shooting. The sisters believed, heart and soul, that the mind of their mother had been poisoned against them by the brother, while the latter declared that the sister were turning his parents against him. That the jealousy grew out of nothing is shown by the records. Mrs. Esther Pittman Byers, the mother, left no will, nor is there any record to show that she had any property to be probated. A search of the records for a number of years back also showed that no property was ever transferred from either father or mother to any of the children. Byers owns only a small tract of land, in poor financial circumstances and had little to give away.

Was Quarrelsome Boy.

A friend of the family asserted that Byers, when a boy at school, was in constant quarrels, not only with the members of his family, but with the other pupils. He was extremely studious, but of a peculiar nervous, jealous disposition which made him a nuisance both to teachers and pupils. He always received the backing of his parents, even though everyone else was against him. This was proven in later years when the girls married. Byers attempted to poison the minds of his parents against all their husbands.

Despite the fact that Byers was murdered in cold blood, public opinion is largely on the side of the sisters, especially among the friends of the family, who claim to know of the circumstances leading up to the shooting.

LURTON'S DEATH SHOCKS FRIENDS

Supreme Court Justice Passes Away at Atlantic City.

IN COURT IN CLOSING DAYS

Interment Will Be at Nashville, Tenn.—Meets of Court Away From Washington—Was Named by Taft—Had Been Promised Place by Roosevelt, Who Afterward Recanted.

Washington, July 13.—News of the death of Justice Horace H. Lurton at Atlantic City came as a shock to official Washington. The justice has been in poor health for several months but sat in the court in the closing days and read opinions. The last opinion he read from the bench was that dismissing the petition of the state of Louisiana asking permission to file the suit enjoining Secretary McAdoo from putting into effect the raw sugar duties under the Underwood-Simms tariff act.

Justice Lurton's body will be brought to Washington this evening. The funeral party will leave here by the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad at 11:10 o'clock and go to Louisville, Ky., and then take the Louisville & Nashville to Nashville, Tenn. The interment will take place at Clarksville, Tenn., the home of Justice Lurton where he began the practice of law.

All of Justice Lurton's associates in the supreme court have been notified. Chief Justice White has advised the marshal of the supreme court, from White Sulphur Springs, that he will join the funeral train at that point and proceed to Tennessee. Justices Lamar and Vanderventer are the only members of the court now in Washington. Justices Day and Pitney are near enough to Washington to make it possible for them to attend. The marshal of the court, J. M. Wright, will accompany the body to Tennessee.

Justice Lurton had seen but little more than four years' service on the supreme court bench.

Appointed by Taft.

Although a Democrat, he was appointed by President Taft, who had been associated with him in the circuit court of appeals for the sixth circuit and had a high opinion of his judicial ability and integrity.

President Taft departed from a rule he laid down governing the appointment of judges when he named Justice Lurton, who was sixty-six years of age at the time of his appointment. In doing so President Taft felt that he was righting a wrong that had been done his friend, Justice Lurton, when President Roosevelt had practically agreed to appoint Mr. Lurton to the supreme bench and then changed his mind on the ground that he had been unfriendly to labor in his decisions and had accepted favors from railroad companies.

DR. CARMAN THROWS SUSPICION ON WIFE

Refuses to Assist Authorities Clear Murder Mystery.

Freeport, L. I., July 13.—Celia Coleman, the colored maid of Mrs. Edwin Carman, now locked up in Mineola jail, charged with having murdered Mrs. Louise Bailey, will be one of the state's star witnesses in securing an indictment of Mrs. Carman from the grand jury.

The strange attitude of Dr. Carman in this investigation puzzles the district attorney greatly. Dr. Carman has been profuse in his declarations that he wants to learn who fired the shot, but on several occasions he has done his best to block the district attorney.

The latest action of Dr. Carman to come to light, which shows to how little extent he is helping the district attorney, is his refusal to detail to the district attorney his own movements the morning after the murder. In view of the suggestion of Mrs. Luryea, mother of the dead woman, that the gun might have been thrown down a swamp by Dr. Carman the morning after the murder while the physician was making his rounds through the countryside of Freeport, this latest refusal of the doctor is most interesting.

TWILIGHT SERVICES WERE WELL ATTENDED

MANY PEOPLE JOINED IN WORSHIP AT JOHN DIXON PARK—LAST MEETING NEXT SUNDAY.

The second twilight service at the John Dixon park was held last night. It was more largely attended than the first and indicates a growing interest in the series which will come to a close next Sunday evening. The weather was pleasant and the park seemed to extend a friendly welcome and all nature about contributed to the worshipfulness of the occasion in which regardless of sect or creed the citizens of Dixon met in recognition of God and all blessings and all prosperity both material and spiritual. Rev. Holland of the Presbyterian church delivered an appropriate sermon from the subject, "Good News," and the congregation sang heartily the old hymns that always inspire. Rev. S. E. Fisher of the Christian church and Rev. E. O. Brawshaw of the Baptist church will each give a brief address next Sunday evening. There will be special music which will be announced later.

CARRANZA SENDS FORMAL DECISION

UNCONDITIONAL SURRENDER IS ONLY THING REBEL CHIEF WILL ACCEPT.

Washington, D. C., July 13.—Gen. Carranza, constitutional leader, today formally notified the United States government that he would engage in no mediation whatever with Huerta or his delegates and that the only terms he would accept were an absolute and unconditional surrender.

ONE MORE PETITION.

County Treasurer Frank C. Vaughan has filed his nominating petition for democratic candidate for county clerk with County Clerk W. C. Thompson, the petition being the only one filed in addition to those noted in this paper Saturday.

Dramatic Roles

FAMILY THEATRE

The family theatre will show the following four rolls of pictures this evening: The Sea Gull; The Doctor's Mistake; A Darktown Wooing; and Engels at Bar-U Ranch. On Tuesday evening a special three-reel film of Shakespeare's Taming of the Shrew will be shown and on Wednesday the Perils of Pauline.

PRINCESS THEATRE

Tonight the Princess will show two reel features, entitled, The Alarm, a Keystone comedy with Miss Mable Normand, Charles Chaplin, Mack Sennett and a full cast of Keystone players, with a laugh in every foot of film. These comedies are said to be the best of any comedy made and from their popularity they have created a decided hit in this city. The other feature, The Social Ghost, is a Kay-Bee drama wherein A Dead Love is restored to life by two children and a dog. This picture is full of pathos and contains a heart interest story interwoven.

CHARGES OF GLARING MALADMINISTRATION

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION SCORES DIRECTORS OF NEW HAVEN R. R.

LOSS RUNS INTO MILLIONS

Report Says Directors Should Be Held Criminally Liable to the Law.

(Associated Press.)

Washington, D. C., June 13.—"One of the most glaring instances of maladministration revealed in all the history of American railroading," is the Interstate Commerce Commission's characterization of the findings in the investigation of the financial affairs of the New Haven railroad, as reported today to the Senate.

In the report of 30,000 words probably the most drastic in terms of any ever made by the commission, the New Haven directors were pronounced "criminally negligent" and evidence pointing to violations of the law has been transmitted to the district attorneys at Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York and to the federal department of justice.

"A reasonable estimate of the loss to the New Haven by wasteful mismanagement," says the report, "would amount to between $60,000,000 and $90,000,000 and the directors should be made individually liable to the civil and criminal laws for the manner in which they disregard their trust."

All of the commission's strictures were upon the management of the New Haven system under former President Mellen.

LIT CONTRACT FOR CITY COAL

Commissioned J. D. VanBibber this morning let the contract for the 30 tons of coal to be used in the city building during the coming year to the Hoefor Coal company, at a price of $5.06 per ton for third vein LaSalle coal, 3x6 inch, screened and weighed at the mine. This price is six cents lower than was secured last year.

DISTRIBUTE THE ROAD AND BRIDGE TAX

County Treasurer Frank C. Vaughan today distributed to the supervisors of the various townships, who are new treasurers of their respective townships, the delinquent road and bridge town and special district hard road taxes which have been collected since the partial settlement. A total of $24,942.70 was thus distributed today.

CHICAGO WOMAN SAYS EPILEPTICS NEED AN INSTITUTION BADLY

MRS. GEO. BASS TELLS WHAT A GREAT NEED THERE IS FOR A HOSPITAL FOR ILLINOIS EPILEPTICS.

After her first experience as a juror trying insane cases in the psychopathic court yesterday, Mrs. George Bass declared her conviction that Illinois is not taking sufficient care of its epileptics. The establishment of an epileptic colony, she said, is an immediate necessity for this state.

"I have known so much about the work in institutions for the defective and the insane," she said, "that sitting on the jury this morning was not much of a surprise."

I was especially interested in the broad spirit of humanity shown by Judge John F. Owens toward these unfortunate. Remarkable advance has been made in Chicago in recent years in the care of the insane. This was the first time I have visited the new buildings of the hospital and they are certainly a credit to Chicago.

"The effort to keep from confusing the different kinds of insanity cases is especially commendable. Really I think the city has solved the problem of the incipient insane as has no other community of this size. The only recommendation I can make for improvement of the present methods is that better care be taken of the epileptics."

A sufficient number of nurses and specialists must be kept in attendance to maintain the standard of work now being done."

Yesterday was the first time Mrs. Jacob Lindheimer, wife of Alderman Lindheimer, had ever seen as large a group of insane patients as that gathered to be adjudged by the jury of which she was a member. She expressed herself as being "terribly affected" by what she saw and said she wished some of her wealthy friends had been with her to contrast their more fortunate lives.

Mrs. Lindheimer was especially impressed, she said, by the case of a woman 72 years of age, suffering from senility.

"The relatives apparently want to thrust the woman into a charitable institution now that she is on longer of any use to them," she said, "and if Judge Owens had not demanded to have the relatives brought before him I think I should have sought them out myself."

Mrs. Lindheimer does much philanthropic work. She is a regular visitor at the Cook County Hospital and her smile and cheer are a looker for by many an invalid.

Mrs. Pauline Palmer, artist, performed her first "jury duty" yesterday. She was much affected by the sight of 18 insane women.

"I hope I'm never called again for a thing like this," she said. "It is terrible."

She expressed appreciation of the manner in which the cases are handled by County Judge Owens.

"If any city uses humanitarian methods for the incipient insane," she said, "it certainly must be Chicago. I can't see how conditions could be improved here."—Chicago Examiner.

IMPORTANCE OF HEALTHY KIDNEYS

Dixon Readers Should Learn to Keep the Kidneys Well.

The kidneys have a big work to do. All the blood in the body is coursing through the kidneys constantly to be freed of poisonous matter. It is a heavy enough task when the kidneys are well, but a cold, chill, fever or some thoughtless exposure is likely to irritate, inflame and congest the kidneys and interrupt the purifying work.

Then the aching frequently begins and is often accompanied by some irregularity of the urine—too frequent passages, sediment or retention. Thousands testify to the wonderful merit of Doan's Kidney Pills, a remedy that has been used in kidney troubles 50 years. You will make no mistake in following this Dixon citizen's advice.

Miss Delia McGrail, 503 College Ave., Dixon, says: "I do not hesitate to publicly endorse Doan's Kidney Pills, for I found them to be just as good as represented. My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back and sides. I heard about Doan's Kidney Pills and used them. They gave me a permanent cure."

Miss McGrail is only one of many Dixon people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask directly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Miss McGrail had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 50c, all Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the Name."

ADVANCE HALTED BY REBEL CHIEF

Rebels Mark Time in Movement Against Mexico City.

FORWARD ORDER AWAITS VILLA

Obregon at Guadalajara and Gonzales at San Luis Potosi Are Holding Forces in Readiness—Villa, It Is Feared, Is Planning Some New Piece of Mischievous.

El Paso, Tex., July 13.—Acting under orders said to have been issued by General Venustiano Carranza, all constitutionalist generals have halted their advance upon Mexico City, which was well under way by at least two of the big divisions of the rebel army.

At Guadalajara General Alvaro Obregon is holding his force in readiness to move upon Queretaro, which is expected to be the last point which will offer serious resistance to the rebel advance upon the federal district. With every preparation made to continue the campaign, Obregon was ordered to await orders from Carranza, and the reason assigned is that his men need rest.

At San Luis Potosi, General Pablo Gonzales has the city surrounded but he has been ordered to wait for orders. From San Luis Potosi the way would be open for Gonzales to move quickly toward the federal district.

In the Chihuahua country General Francisco Villa's army remains inactive, but it is by reason of orders issued by Villa and not because of any order issued by Carranza.

All Awaits Villa.

The sudden halt of the Carranza forces just when the time appeared propitious for a quick and successful assault upon Huerta's capital is attributed to Villa men to a desire on the part of Carranza to make a new effort to get Villa to join in the general movement to the south. Villa's entire army now is in the vicinity of Chihuahua City and Villa is himself in Chihuahua City and preparing to come to Juarez. He shows no disposition to resume the offensive and his attitude is said to be causing Carranza men much uneasiness. They fear he is planning some new move which may cause more trouble in constitutionalist circles.

HOOPER PRESSES DRY FIGHT

Governor to Sue Lodges Which Serve Liquor in Tennessee.

Nashville, Tenn., July 13.—Drastic steps toward making Tennessee dry, and which will be successful were taken today. Governor Hooper, through counsel, asks injunctions under the nuisance law against the lodges of Elks, Eagles, Moose and Beavers, which have been accustomed to serving liquors to members and their guests.

Voluntarily the fashionable Golf and Country club and Hermitage club, following the action recently of the Commercial club, have discontinued serving liquors.

WIGWAM FEUD PERILS MURPHY LEADERSHIP

Big Tom Dolan Bids Boss Side Against Jim Frawley.

New York, July 13.—Within four months of a state election vital to its prosperity, Tammany is torn in two by the most alarming feud which has developed in the organization in the memory of the leaders, the irreconcilable strife between Big Tom Foley and State Senator Jim Frawley. All previous feuds were admittedly less disturbing than the feud which is marked by Foley's determination to drive Frawley out of politics and to unseat Murphy if Murphy plays his usual game of keeping hands off.

Foley's friends know what his purpose is. When the primaries come along, and provided that Frawley has not retired voluntarily from the leadership of the Twenty-sixth district and from the senate, the man who has more real power downtown than the Sullivan ever exerted, will demand that Murphy side with him against Frawley.

If Murphy refuses, or takes his customary attitude of "letting the boys fight it out between themselves," Foley will declare war upon Murphy with an excellent chance to win.

Said assessment is payable in ten (10) installments. The amount of the first installment is $676.23 and is due and payable on or before January 2nd, 1915. The last nine install-

Signed, BLAKE GROVER, Collector.

POLITICIANS RUSH IN NOMINATION PAPERS

Two Thousand Petitions Are Filed at Springfield.

Springfield, Ill., July 13.—Two thousand petitions of candidates for nominations at the primaries Sept. 9 were filed with the secretary of state.

There was the usual scramble at the door when the office was opened at 8:40 o'clock. Fifty men bearing petitions pushed and jostled one another in an effort to gain first place on the ballot.

Some candidates filed petitions both by mail and at the door, but the great majority used only the mail. Following is an incomplete list of candidates whose petitions were filed with the secretary of state:

United States Senator—Roger C. Sullivan, Barratt O'Hara and Harry Woods, Democrats; William E. Mason, Republican. State treasurer—W. C. Clifford, Democrat; Charles E. Hook, Republican. Clerk of supreme court—Albert J. Flynn and Dennis Horan, Democrats; Charles W. Vail and Chas. W. Baldwin, Republicans. Candidates for congress outside Cook county—District twelve, Archie G. Kennedy, Republican. Thirteen, John C. Kennedy, Republican. Fifteen, Edward J. King, Republican; C. F. Hurlburgh, Republican; Dale G. Kilburn, Republican. Sixteen, George A. Zeller, Republican. Eighteen, Joseph G. Cannon, Republican. Nineteen, William M. McKinley, Republican. Twenty-one, Loren E. Wheeler, Republican. Twenty-two, W. A. Baltz, Democrat; W. A. Rodenburg, Republican. Twenty-four, Kenneth C. Ronalds, Republican.

The state organization has added $300 in special prize money, and in addition there will be special prizes from the Interstate association and others.

The annual meeting of the association will take place on Tuesday evening, July 14, when officers will be elected and routine business disposed of. It is expected that there will be considerable discussion regarding the migratory bird law, which has proven so unsatisfactory to Illinois sportsmen.

KELLER MAKES DOCTORS ANGRY

State Board of Health Is Now After Him.

MUST CUT "M. D." FROM NAME

Medical Director of Many Insurance Companies Arouses Ire of Profession When He Says a Physician Should Be Watched More Than Any Other Men.

Chicago, July 13.—Thomas S. Hogan, attorney for the state board of health, has served written notice on Dr. David H. Keller, medical director, referee or adjuster for forty-five insurance companies, that he must erase the "M. D." from his name or face prosecution.

Dr. Keller admits being unlicensed, but denies practicing. Dr. Keller charges Dr. Arthur E. Price with "framing" on him. Recently Dr. Price and Dr. Keller clashed. Both admit it. Dr. Price accused Dr. Keller of cutting fees. Dr. Keller denied the charge.

"But," said Dr. Price, "Keller recently advised that physicians should be watched, and we simply watched and caught him without a license."

Speech Angers Doctors.

And here is how it happened: The Casualty Underwriters' association of Chicago held a banquet recently, and invited Dr. Keller to give "expert views on the workmen's compensation act." His topic was "Medical Side of Compensation." Several physicians were present, and they were shocked. There also was present a shorthand reporter for the Western Underwriter, an insurance publication, and the talk was printed. It aroused interest, so the insurance men decided to have the discourse printed in pamphlet form and give it unlimited distribution. It has caused a furore in medical circles, and fifty physicians, it is said, have started after Dr. Keller's scalp.

Doctors Didn't Like This.

Here are some of the words that aroused the ire of Dr. Keller's enemies:

"While I would not have you interpret my remarks as a reflection upon the profession of medicine and of doctors of medicine in general, I would rather that you understand me distinctly when I say that a physician ought to be watched more closely than any other man."

"A physician has a thousand opportunities to steal where the average layman has one. Moreover, when a layman steals he runs a big risk of being caught. A physician runs scarcely any risk at all. He can, and often does, charge pneumonia prices for treating a bad cold; he can, and often does, frown a simple belly ache into appendicitis."

Cites Alleged Dishonesty.

The paper gave instances of alleged dishonesty. One dealt with a claim for $5,000, in which "one of the most prominent physicians of Chicago" asserted the condition was due to a accident, whereas it was due to a disease, and when "the fraud was exposed the insured settled for $436."

HOG CHOLERA IN OKLAHOMA

Farmers Alarmed by Spread of Disease in Osage County.

Bartlesville, Okla., July 13.—Hog cholera has developed in Osage county. Three-score porkers have died the past few days. The disease has developed and spread so suddenly farmers are greatly alarmed. County agents are vaccinating hogs.

It is estimated more hogs were raised in this section of the state this year than ever before.

BOMB FATAL TO THIRTY-FIVE

Midshipmen Believed to Be Victims of Gunboat Conspiracy.

Shanghai, July 13.—Thirty-five midshipmen were killed by the mysterious explosion of a bomb over the magazine of the Chinese gunboat Ton Chi.

It is suspected that there was a conspiracy aboard the ship which resulted in the perpetration of the outrage. The magazines of the warship were flooded to prevent further explosions.
